

29th Latin Summer School
Monday 16th January to Friday 20th January 2023
New Law Building, the University of Sydney

Outline of Courses

BEGINNERS

Level 1A This is for complete beginners with no prior knowledge of the language. Students will be introduced to Latin pronunciation and sentence structure as well as basic grammar and syntax. Topics to be covered include: first and second declension nouns, first-second declension adjectives, first and second conjugation verbs (present and imperfect tenses), the irregular verbs “to be” and “to be able”, prepositions and conjunctions. A composite course booklet will be provided.

Tutor: Sam Wessels

Level 1B This will begin with the basics, and move into simple translation with lots of grammar. For those who have begun Latin but have not progressed very far. Topics to be covered include: first, second and third declension nouns and adjectives, comparative and superlative adjectives, indicative active verbs (present, imperfect, perfect and pluperfect), imperative and infinitive verbs. A composite course booklet will be provided.

Tutors: Damaris Wikramanayake

INTERMEDIATE

Level 2A This requires some knowledge of Latin grammar which will be developed, and classes will be split between reading passages of original Latin and grammar work. Grammar topics to be covered depend on the needs of the class, but might include: the introduction of subjunctive forms, indirect statements, ablative absolutes, and conditionals. A composite course booklet will be provided.

Tutors: John Coombs and Mike Salter

Level 2B This will have greater emphasis on extensive graded readings with (optional) prior preparation, while grammar will be revised and extended. You should be familiar with all tenses and cases, but not necessarily passives or subjunctives. Grammar topics to be covered depend on the needs of the class, but might include: revision of verb forms (and introduction of passive or subjunctive forms as required), word order and tactics for reading Latin sentences, gerunds and gerundives, case usage, uses of the subjunctive, revision of noun and adjective declensions and participles: a composite course booklet will be provided. Tutors: Alexander Westenberg and Leigh Morgan

Level 2C This will be more challenging than 2B, with plenty of readings and grammar revision. Prior preparation of the readings is essential. Grammar topics to be covered depend on the needs of the class, but might include: uses of the ablative, ablative absolutes, gerunds and gerundives, purpose and result clauses, sequence of tenses, indirect statements, relative clauses in indirect discourse. A composite course booklet will be provided.

Tutor: Kim Harris and Timothy Livingstone

INTERMEDIATE PLUS

Level 3A This is designed to widen your reading experience with a variety of original Latin texts, and will include work on style, interpretation, scansion and reading technique. Prior preparation of the readings is essential. Grammar will be explained as needed. Suitable for students sitting the HSC exams in 2023 and 2024, and for undergraduates with one year's Latin.

Tutors: Andrew Gollan – Nepos ‘Life of Hannibal’

Paul Roche – Sallust ‘The Last Days of Catiline’

Phillip Dupesovski – Ovid ‘Metamorphoses’ Book 4

You will have three teachers once per day, and read all three groups of texts.

Level 3B For Adult students only

i. The course at Level 3B i. involves a wide range of readings requiring preparation. Grammar will be explained as needed. This course is designed for students who already have an HSC qualification in Latin (or equivalent). Composite course booklets will be provided.

Tutors: Sarah Lawrence and Michelle McVeigh

ii. Medieval Latin – a selection of readings will be provided and studied

Tutors: Alison Waters and Roger Pitcher

Level 3C Adult Learners returning to Latin

If you studied Latin some time (or a long time!) ago and want to go back to the beginning, this is the course for you. It will cover grammar and readings. Grammar topics to be covered depend on the needs of the class, but might include: nouns (all declensions), verbs (all conjugations), indirect commands, statements and questions, result and purpose clauses, expressions of wish, gerunds and gerundives, and case usage. A composite course booklet will be provided.

Tutors: Peter Kalina and Barbara Twomey

ADVANCED

Level 4 This level will be reading-based, and texts may be allocated for translation in class. Students are expected to have prepared the texts in advance and discussion is encouraged. Attention will be paid to literary analysis, grammatical and textual problems, and social and historical context. There will be two sessions each day, and participants choose one class from each session. Optional special interest classes will be offered for Level 4 students in the afternoons (you sign up for these on the first day of the summer school). Composite course booklets will be provided.

Tutors, topics and times:
